Eighty-Four-Year-Old Stock Trader Tells How He Was Duped in Produce Exchange Corridor.

What appears to have been one of the boldest, safest and most successful robberies in the history of the financial district "below the Fulton street dead line" was reported to-day after Aaron Bancroft, the oldest active broker in New York, made the discovery that he had been tricked out of nearly $90,000 worth of securities on last Thursday afternoon in the basement vaults of the Produce Exchange Building.

According to the excited statement of old Mr. Bancroft-he has passed his eighty-fourth birthday and is physically feeble-a young man knocked him down, seemingly by accident, in a narrow hallway, as he was on his way to the safety deposit box of his firm-George Bancroft & Co.-to lock up a paper wallet containing the securities. Another young man helped to pick him up and brush him off. One of the two recovered his envelope, which he had dropped, and Mr. Bancroft believed then that it
